1. Copyright assignment

This agreement comes into effect when your article is accepted for publication by the Journal.

The Author grants to Editura ASE, upon acceptance by the Journal, the exclusive right and license to publish the Article above referred to, throughout the world, in any form, in any language, for the full term of copyright. This enables Editura ASE to ensure copyright protection against infringement, and to disseminate the Article as widely as possible. The Article may be published in printed, online, CD-ROM, or in other media formats. The Editor of the Journal and Editura ASE are empowered to make such editorial changes as may be necessary to make the Article suitable for publication. Every effort will be made to consult the Author is substantive changes are required. Editura ASE undertakes to prepare and publish the Article above mentioned, subject only to its right to refuse publication if there is a breach of the Author's warranty in paragraph 2 or there are other reasonable grounds. In such case, Editura ASE assigns to the Author any and all copyright and other rights in the Article.

2. Author's warrants

The author warrants that the Article is original, written by the stated author(s), has not been published in another journal before, and is not currently under consideration for publication elsewhere, contains no unlawful statements, does not infringe the rights of others, and that any necessary written permissions to quote from the work of other authors have been obtained by the author(s). If the Article is prepared jointly with other authors, the Author warrants that he/she has been authorized by all co-authors to sign this agreement on their behalf, and agrees to inform his/her co-authors of the terms of this agreement. The author hereby asserts his/her moral rights under the copyright laws applicable in the European Union. In case of infringement to the Author's warranty in paragraph 2, Editura ASE is entitled to pursue legal actions against the authors of the Article (to the extent Editura ASE incurs fees and other legal obligations resulting from the actions of entitled authors and institutions).

3. Rights of author(s)

The Author(s) retain the following rights: all proprietary rights other than copyright; the right to use the substance of the Article in future own works, including lectures and books; the right to reproduce the Article for own purposes, provided the copies are not offered for sale (provided acknowledgment is awarded to the Journal as the original source of publication). Any other use of the Article requires permission from Editura ASE.
